This virtual Mindful Self-Compassion-Short Course (SC-MSC) is an educational format in a group setting, not group therapy. These classes can be beneficial for many individuals with a wide variety of concerns. However, certain factors can interfere with a participant's success. Please consider an individual interview with the class instructor if any of the following factors are concerns for you: anger, severe depression, suicidal thoughts, a serious psychological or medical condition, previous psychiatric hospitalization, and/or excessive use of alcohol and/or recreational drugs.

1. Please share anything you would like me to know about why you are interested in participating in this class?

2. Do you have a regular practice of meditation? If so, what type and how many years have you been practicing? (It's not necessary to have any experience of meditation prior to this program.)

3. Are there recent circumstances in your life (e.g. related to COVID, the economic situation, loss of a loved one, illness, substance abuse, prolonged depression, relationship problems,) or past history (e.g. serious attempt to take your life) that might affect your experience in the class? Yes No If yes, please describe.
